

BORAH TALKS STATE RIGHTS.

Preserve Self-government, Is Senator's Plea.

Secretary of War Tells of Peace Progress.

Two Addresses to Hamilton Club of Chicago.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

CHICAGO, April 9.—The celebration of Appomattox Day by the Hamilton Club at the Auditorium Annex tonight was made notable by the presence of distinguished speakers, whose addresses were of particular interest. Gen. Fred D. Grant spoke briefly on some personal recollections of Appomattox, and Secretary of War Dickinson chose as the subject of his remarks "The Progress of Peace." Senator William E. Borah of Idaho spoke on "The Integrity of the States." In speaking on "The Integrity of the States," Senator Borah made a strong appeal in favor of jealous watchfulness to preserve local self-government in its greatest vigor as the surest guarantee for the freedom of free institutions, and at the same time emphasized the importance of Federal power as provided by the Constitution.

Describing the pure democracy that existed in Athens, he declared that, although that example of popular government had continued for less than 500 years, more than 2000 years have not dimmed in the least the luster of its achievements.

DEFECT FATAL.

"The underlying well the lesson of local self-government," said Mr. Borah, "but the great central and controlling principle of civilization, that is, concentrated and harmonious action among separate states or communities on a large scale, without destroying or forfeiting self-government, was to them unknown. The representative principle, that system by which independent cities or states retaining full and complete control over domestic affairs, with a central and supreme authority for all matters of common interest, was to them unknown. So, amidst petty rivalries and constant jealousies, and with no common interest, a perpetual war, this resplendent political system perished. There was a fatal defect, a defect which another people was to discover and remedy."

As the antithesis of this wonderful example of pure democracy, he traced the development of the Roman Empire and the coincident loss of all local government by communities brought under the sway of Rome.

Instead of expecting to find virtue and progress and prosperity among the people worked out through the thrift and industry and energy of the people, he declared, "they supposed that in some way these things could be imposed by statute and imperial decrees. They thought that by legislation alone could be cured, and that the government must take care of them all. At that time this civilization came into conflict with that of the Teutons of the North, a people having among them the germ of local self-government in their tribal rule, a people independent, self-reliant, possessed of courage and initiative. When the conflict came the fair and vernal splendor of Rome perished."

TOWN MEETING ORIGIN.

Tracing Anglo-Saxon civilization, Mr. Borah declared that the principle of the New England town meeting has been the basis of our civilization with strength and durability. Without its active presence, its living pervading force, there could be no such thing as a truly republican government, or Federal system.

"Our fathers understood this well," said Mr. Borah, "and were wise and cautious in jealously guarding it. When they came to frame the Federal system, if they were wise to preserve it, their children will be wise to continue to preserve it. It is a remarkably short period from the time when a people came to be active in the affairs of government, and they are capable of discharging the duties imposed by government, and no people incapable of self-government ever long lived a clear of statesmen who were capable of governing for them. For it is nature's everlasting anathema on oligarchy and recedes from the walks of the bubble and luxury must be had or else follows a universal bankruptcy of intellect and character, a people who are not capable of self-government, and from whose vices nations soon fall the ruin of government."

With the utmost care, he said, in the formation of the Federal system, there was reserved for the States the control of all matters of domestic concern of local interest, which was granted to the general government those great and general powers which encompass the welfare of all.

THIRD ABUSED.

"We must not assume," continued the Senator, "we must not permit ourselves to believe that the reservation of local self-government is of less moment or less beneficial to the American people than the grant I am now speaking of. The phrase, 'State rights' has been discredited in our history. It is associated with unhappy days. It is a kind of intellectual tramp recognized for the last fifty years mainly at the back door of the American statesman. But the abuse of the term should not blind us to the great and inviolable political truth that upon the integrity of the States, after all, rests the integrity and permanency of the Union. Let upon the principle of local self-government rests the perpetuity of the Federal system."

"God bless this government in the hour in which we shall look to Washington for that economy in public expenditures, that comprehension of the common needs, that devotion to the common interests, the power and the willingness to stand above and distribute justice, all so essential to a democratic form of government, rather than to enlightened public opinion, that we may have a government through those agencies of government which reach back and down to the great body of the people—the sole sovereignty of the republic."

ON FIRM FOUNDATION.

The makers of the Constitution, he said, did not grant to the general government any powers which it is dangerous to exercise to the fullest extent. They put the building at the top, instead of keeping sound and safe and sure the foundation of local self-government upon which the whole structure rests.

"For what shall it profit," he continued, "to erect a great, creative commission and unfold the ambition of a host of men, who dream of international prestige and power unless we know

SMALLPOX ON HONEYMOON.

Husband Arrives Home to Hospital While Bride Is Under Quarantine.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) ST. LOUIS (Mo.) April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As the sequel to an extended honeymoon tour through Mexico, Ernest H. Richardson, vice-president of the T. B. Boyd Furnishing Goods Company, is a patient at the quarantine and smallpox hospital, where he is under treatment for smallpox. He contracted the disease in Mexico.

The domicile occupied by his mother, Mrs. M. A. Richardson, at the Washington Terrace apartments, one of the most exclusive suites in the West End, has been quarantined by the Health Department. His bride is compelled to remain in the home with her parents.

Mr. Richardson, who was Miss Nellie Tracy, greatly surprised her friends and relatives and her husband's about two months ago, when she announced that they had been married since November.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were returning home from their honeymoon when he was taken ill on the train. He did not think his indisposition serious until he arrived here.

FIFTEEN AUTOS BURN.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Fifteen automobiles, valued at $40,000, were destroyed by fire early today at a south side garage. The flames started from the explosion of a gasoline tank, and spread so rapidly that the employees were unable to take the machines from the building.

CHICAGO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago, under a cloudy forenoon, with frequent snow flurries and a brief period of intermittent sunshine about noon, became enveloped this afternoon in a miniature blizzard that lasted for some time and covered the streets with fine, white snow that clung to street cars, wagons and pedestrians until they seemed clothed in white. Today's maximum temperature was 35, and the minimum 25 degrees. Middle West temperatures:

SWINDLERS ARE FUGITIVES.

CHICAGO, April 9.—John A. MacFarland, Albert Miller Adams and Samuel Rosenfeld, alleged to have swindled Mrs. James A. Patten, wife of a wealthy Board of Trade man, out of more than $20,000 by means of a fake luge box swindle, were declared fugitives from justice in the Criminal Court here today. The alleged fugitives were at liberty on bonds of $2000 each. When their costs were called today they were not present and captives for their arrest were issued.

Samuel Wardell and W. G. Cooper were tried for complicity in the swindle. Wardell was convicted and sentenced to the State Prison for five years. Cooper was acquitted.

MacFarland appeared in court as a witness of the State against them.

TO PROTECT EASTER CHICKS.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The Anti-Cruelty Society has entered a protest against the sale of baby chickens as Easter gifts, by the large department stores, and florist firms. In New York the Humane Society recently suppressed the practice. "It is tiny victims, variably fall into the hands of children, who, thoughtlessly, abuse and neglect them so that the fledglings die a miserable and lingering death," said George L. Warden, president.

Predicts Rise in July to Equal That of May.

No More Cheap Prices Until Production Grows.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James A. Patten reached his office today about noon, and was just in time to respond to a telephone call from a country miller, who wanted to buy a round lot of cash wheat. Before leaving the telephone booth he personally sold 5000 bushels No. 2 red wheat at $1.38, free on board cars here, which is the highest price of the year yet recorded for this grade of wheat. C. B. Pierce of the same house reported sales of hard wheat, also to country millers at prices ranging from $1.25 to $1.35 over the May price in this market.

The bull leader had nothing but the most positive kind of a denial for the story in circulation on the curb that private settlements had been made on a line of 4,000,000 bushels of May wheat.

"I have no wheat to sell except in the open market, and those who sold wheat short must go into that market," he denied the story.

He expressed himself as being decidedly bullish on July wheat, believing it will reach even a higher level before next harvest than yet recorded for May contracts. He believes all of the new crop months which are now at a great discount under cash wheat will have a big rise in value.

Puffing his elixir and gazing through the plate-glass window of his office overlooking Chicago boulevard, he said that the wheat market was in a state of confusion.

"We will see no more cheap wheat in this country until there is more extensive production to meet the growing consumption demands," he said. "It is the chance for this increase in production in this country this year because farmers all over the Northwest declare there is more money in raising wheat and barley than putting the land to wheat. Over the winter wheat belt corn is the great article of production, and the uniformly high prices of this cereal for several years have induced farmers to make preparations for even more extensive planting this year. This naturally cuts into the wheat market."

MISSOURI TO VOTE ON RUM.

FIRST VOTE IN HOUSE PROMISES ISSUE AT POLLS.

If Measure Carries at Election in 1910 It is Provided That It Shall Be Inoperative Until January, 1913.

Democrats Criticized for Failing to Submit Question.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By vote of 88 to 45 the proposed amendment to the Constitution, establishing State-wide prohibition, was sent to engrossment in the House today after a five-hour debate. Its final passage was made a special order for next Wednesday afternoon.

Though the Holcomb increased tax rider was defeated by a vote of 59 to 71, the amendment, as ordered engrossed, was so amended as to provide that should prohibition be adopted at the polls in November, 1910, in both branches of the Legislature, it shall be inoperative until January 1, 1913.

By this amendment, which was offered by Representative Conran and adopted by a vote of 70 to 42, to get it before the voters the amendment must receive not less than 72 votes in the House, and not less than 18 in the Senate.

After the Holcomb tax rider was defeated Representative Conran sought to get through a substitute, which lost yesterday, but it was defeated by a vote of 74 to 54. The Senate is also expected to submit the prohibition amendment.

Party lines were not drawn, though Representative Rhodes (Republican) presented the impositions placed upon Gov. Hadley by Representative Croswell (Dem.) and assigned Democracy despite its forty years of power in Missouri for denying to the people an opportunity to vote upon the question.

The vote by which the prohibition submission resolution was sent to engrossment, was 86 to 45, thirty-one Republicans and fifty-five Democrats voting for it, and thirty-five Republicans and ten Democrats against it. This indicates the Democratic Senate will also vote for submission.

ON LAST LAP ARE WALKERS.

Pauline Jackson Still Leads in Six-Day Race.

Gains Three Miles on Jennie
Beadle During Day.

Twelve Hours' Walking Today to Finish Contest.

Pauline Jackson jumped into the lead yesterday in the women's six-day walking race at the Madison-Southern-California Exposition, and when the day's tramping was over at 10 o'clock, last night she was four and one-tenth miles ahead of Jennie Beadle, who had been leading since the race started.

The records for the week:

Miles Laps	Time
Pauline Jackson	143 1/2
Jennie Beadle	129 1/2
Edna Gibson	115 1/2
Edna Gibson	108 1/2
Edna Gibson	103 1/2
Edna Gibson	98 1/2

The records made yesterday:

Miles Laps	Time
Pauline Jackson	24 1/2
Edna Gibson	20 1/2
Jennie Beadle	19 1/2
Edna Gibson	18 1/2
Edna Gibson	17 1/2

Miss Jackson showed unusual endurance in maintaining a continual pace, and although Jennie Beadle was on the track fully as long as Miss Jackson, she was unable to keep up the pace which her opponent set, and had to relinquish her hold on first place, which she had held for four days.

With the exception of Cornelia Papantia, the contestants covered twenty miles or more during the twelve-hour period yesterday. None of the walkers were able to keep up with Miss Jackson, although Miss Beadle made the second-best showing, walking nine miles more than Cornelia Webb, who finished third in the day's walk.

The women are in excellent physical condition, and claim to feel as strong as when they started. The contest will conclude today, with a twelve-hour period, beginning at noon and closing at 12 o'clock tonight. The women will be allowed to walk "free" and it is expected that the finish will be exciting. The contest for first place undoubtedly will be between Pauline Jackson and Jennie Beadle, as Jennie Gibson, who is now in third place, is twenty-six miles behind Mrs. Beadle.

TRACK MEET TODAY.

Athletes to Be Housed in Tents While Preparing for Coming Contest.

Redlands and San Bernardino high schools have entered terms in the championship intercollegiate invitation track and field meet to be held on Howard Field this afternoon, bringing the total of individual performers registered to 115. It is possible that still more entries may be made before the meet this morning.

The first events will begin at 1 o'clock in both sections A and B, and the track races will probably follow in some order, commencing about 2 o'clock. Every provision has been made to conduct the meet in the shortest possible time and delays will be avoided entirely if the routine is followed by the officials.

The athletes representing Ventura, Oxnard and Santa Paula high schools arrived in the city yesterday morning. The boys took a brief warming-up practice at Howard Field. Those of the visitors who arrive this morning from outside towns will be permitted to use the track.

Tents have been erected on the campus and field and will be turned over to the visiting athletes. Other accommodations will be arranged.

MEMO'S TEMPER.

Sentiment seems to be equally divided as to the merits of Ad Walquist and George Memo, who meet in a ten-round scrap at McCarey's pavilion Friday evening.

Walquist has done such remarkable work since he has been here that the fans do not know exactly what limit to place on the Mexican. The thought is to give Memo a fair fight, but his judgment showed that he did not underestimate his own abilities and he went through the ordeal victoriously. Now, however, he is up against one of the hardest punchers in the lightweight division. Memo has shown that he can hit on more than one occasion and his training partners many times have come to the mat by a blow which was not meant to be severe, but which landed just right to drop his opponent.

Memo is in splendid shape to begin work for the fray. At Eastside he fought yesterday with the idea of getting his wind and reducing his appetite, and he succeeded in getting down to 135, at which figure he will be able to work until near the time for the battle. The Turk is with Memo and is looking after his physical interests.

Walquist put in a busy day at Venice, boxing with Clarence English and Young Miller. He is under the watchful eye of Tom Jones and, as he realizes that this is the crucial test of his abilities as a fighter, he will keep up his training assiduously and will enter the ring even in better shape than he did when he fought Panto.

Ralph Calloway and Jim Cameron are expected to put up a terrific battle over the six-round route. Calloway shows great speed in his work and, although many pounds lighter than his opponent, he does not fear the outcome. Cameron is a much improved boxer from the raw recruit who faced Jack Burns. His experience at Arcadia, when he whipped Harry Wuest, was of great benefit to him and he will go into the scrap Friday with more confidence than he ever possessed in a fight.

Jimmy Austin, in taking on Young Miller, is giving away ten pounds, but Austin seems to think the handicap is nothing and that he will be able to more than hold his own during the six rounds, if he does not finish the struggle before that number of sessions has ended. Reports from Venice are to the effect that Miller is a hard puncher and that he has improved greatly since he has had Walquist to work with and many of the fans who have watched his progress believe that Jimmy will have his hands full when they face each other.

Harry Wuest left last night for Cincinnati, his home, after losing three of his battles in Southern California. He will return in a few months and hopes to take on some of the middleweights here.

Fred Corbett is recovering from the "tin ear" which Dalton gave him in the last fight between the two, and he may be able to go into the ring again by the 12th of the month.

CHASE IS WORSE.

RICHMOND (Va.) April 9.—The New York American League baseball team, one of whose members, Hal Chase, was taken ill with smallpox in Augusta, Ga., arrived in Richmond today with a clean bill of health from the officials of that city.

The local health officers also gave the team a clean bill of health. Chase is worse today at Augusta, but is not confined to bed. He says he will not rejoin the team until May 10.

SMITH TO REFEREE.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Edward Smith of this city, who refereed the Gotch-Hackenschmidt wrestling match last year, will perform that office again in the championship battle between Gotch and Yusef Mahmoud, to be held here April 14. Mahmoud will wrestle Fred Beall in an exhibition match before the Chicago Athletic Club tomorrow night, and Gotch will act as referee.

WOMEN'S GOLF PLAY.

In the semi-finals of the women's golf tournament at the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday, Miss Isabelle Smith beat Mrs. E. R. Williams, her Annandale clubmate, by the score of 2 up and 1 to play, and Miss Catherine Mellus beat Miss Margaret James, 2 up and 1 to play. Miss Smith and Miss Mellus will play the final this afternoon for the championship, beginning at 1:30 o'clock.

ST. YVES ACCEPTS.

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) April 9.—Henri St. Yves, winner of the $10,000 Marathon derby at New York last Saturday, will accept the challenge of Alfred Shrubbs, the English runner, for a race "any distance from fifteen miles to fifty," according to a statement tonight by M. A. F. Copeland, St. Yves' manager.

WESTON GETTING ALONG.

BELLEVIEW (O.) April 9.—Edward Payson Weston arrived here tonight at 7:48 o'clock on his walk to the Pacific Coast, having walked from Mansfield, forty-three miles, today. He plans to leave at 3 o'clock Saturday morning for Toledo, where he will rest over Sunday.

BICYCLE RACES OFF.

ATLANTA (Ga.) April 9.—The bicycle races scheduled here for tonight were called off on account of a sudden drop in temperature.

Alleged Fight Forger.

JOPLIN (Mo.) April 9.—James Eagan, who represented himself to be Battling Nelson's manager, announced last week that he had matched Nelson and Fred Welsh for a fight in Mexico, was arrested tonight charged with forgery. It is said Eagan posed as Nelson's manager in order to advertise his moving-picture show. He made the announcement of the Nelson-Welsh fight in Pittsburgh, Kan. It later was denied.

MEXICO SUBSIDY LINE.

Bill introduced providing $5000 a month for Steamers to (Associated Press Night Report.) MEXICO CITY, April 9.—A bill was introduced in Congress today providing for a subsidized line of steamers to ply between Seattle, San Francisco and west coast ports of Mexico and Central America.

This line, the Jabon-Ostrander, is to receive a subsidy of $5000 per month. Steamers of 2000 tons will be put on. Under the terms of the concessions, the boats will carry Mexican mails free and admit two naval apprentices on board.

NEW TANANA TRUSTEES.

TACOMA (Wash.) April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] W. R. McDonald of Seattle and Senator George Turner, J. C. Wilson and Guy Sanborn of Spokane have been elected trustees of the Tanana Construction Company, which is building the Alaska Central Railroad from seaward to the interior. W. R. McDonald is to be president and Sanborn vice-president in the organized corporation.

This step will be followed at the annual stockholder's meeting of the railroad Tuesday by the selection of a new board of trustees for that corporation, it is said. Both the Frost and Ballaine factions have been eliminated and the new organization will more nearly represent the bondholders.

Acting under orders from the courts, Receiver Laboree will build to Mile 73 before August, it is anticipated, an order will be issued directing the receiver to sell the road. It is believed the bondholders will bid in, reorganize and continue the railroad.

Queen Quality SHOE

Easter Fashions

We are now making a record-breaking display of women's low shoes. It's so clearly the greatest exposition of shoe style that has ever been made in this city, that we are making new customers for our two popular stores at a faster rate than ever before in our experience.

Over fifty new "Queen Quality" designs, which authoritatively place before you every phase of correct shoe fashion. Gibson Ties, Garden Ties, "Ankle Strap" pumps and 3-button low shoes—in many shades of suede kid-skin and cravenette cloths, mellow tans, aristocratic patents, soft kidskins and dignified dull leathers.

Careful comparisons prove that this remarkable showing of "Queen Quality" shoes presents at a reasonable price, more original and truly distinctive shoe models than are offered by any other concern in this city at all prices.

Don't decide on your Easter shoes until you see this splendid "Queen Quality" shoe show. The shoes make our fashion supremacy so plain, that we won't need to urge you to become a purchaser.

We Positively Give the Biggest Shoe Values in this City

Our business is organized on simple, economical lines. Our percentage cost of doing business is lower than that of any other shoe concern on the Pacific Coast—very much lower than any other shoe concern in this city.

We can profitably do business on a close margin profit basis, which would insure the ruin of any establishment extravagantly organized. We can easily afford to give you bigger shoe values than any of the other stores—and still make money. We completely "turn" our stock oftener than any other large shoe concern in the world.

Our present window displays reveal this greater value-giving ability so clearly, that we urge every woman in the city to see them. Notice particularly the wonderful showing of "Queen Quality" shoes at $3.50.

No other concern in this city can duplicate these shoes under $5.00.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

A fine figure!

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Dissolution.

Announcement was made yesterday that Jacob Salzman may be paid partnership with Adolph Klein by buying his interest in the clothing house at 34th and Main streets. Salzman will continue the business.

Boy's Arm Broken.

Ira Mills, 10 years old, fell from a chair at the Children's Home yesterday afternoon, and sustained a fracture of the left arm and a laceration on the head. He was cared for at the Crocker-street Hospital.

Sealing Down.

The Horticultural Commission yesterday decided to suspend fumigating and spraying operations in the city for scale, on the ground that at this time such methods of treating trees is not entirely satisfactory, as the young scale are now hatching out.

Bessie Explodes.

James Wilson of No. 2335 South Main street was injured yesterday when a bottle of benzine, which he was carrying, exploded. His burns were treated at the Receiving Hospital. The house was set on fire and damaged to the extent of $500.

Geopol Temperance.

William Murphy will deliver an Easter address at the gospel temperance meeting in Blanchard Hall Sunday night, at which time there is expected to be a great turnout of pledge-signers. Francis Murphy, Jr., will sing.

For Japanese Officers.

A reception to the officers of the two Japanese warships which will reach San Pedro the 28th inst., is being arranged by the Chamber of Commerce. The visitors will be taken about the city in automobiles. The public will be asked to aid in the entertainment of the crew.

Inspector Hays.

An inspection of the local United States Engineer's office is being made by Col. C. G. Woodward, U.S.A., who is attached to the staff of the Inspector-General. He is going over the records and accounts, and is inspecting the government property in the possession of the office.

Playgrounds of Chicago.

Under the auspices of the Playground Commission, Graham Romney Taylor of the Chicago Commons will give a free stereopticon lecture in the First Congregational Church on Monday evening. His subject will be the playgrounds and recreation centers of Chicago.

Hundred Thousand California Butlers.

Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce has ordered 100,000 buttons to be given away at the Seattle Exposition, from the William H. Hoege Company of this city. This is the largest order for buttons ever given in this section. At the Portland Exposition Secretary Wiggins and his assistants gave away about $5,000 California badges.

Yang-Na Club's Affairs.

The Yang-na Club, a social organization made up of the members of the Y. N. C. C. and the Y. W. C. C., will hold its 104th and University Encampment, No. 112, L.O.O.F., will give a musical program. The club will also give a dance at Odd Fellows Hall, No. 721 West Jefferson street, on Thursday evening. The club will also give a dance on Friday evening. The club will also give a dance on Saturday evening.

Still Hope for Oswald.

All hope is not yet abandoned by the District Attorney as to the possibility of the appearance of Nick Oswald, late king of the Tenderloin, who has been missing for a month. Carl Fredericks and his assistants still are inclined to believe that the much-wanted man will appear on Monday, when the special grand jury will convene, and tell what he knows of conditions that led to the redlight slaughter.

Good Starting Day.

Good Friday was a favorite day for starting new companies, as the records of the County Clerk's office show. Yesterday saw nine new incorporations started in place of the usual one or two of a Friday. Last year, owing to the panic, only five were issued, and the year before only three. The articles of incorporation issued yesterday, indicate a return of business activity along diverse lines. Several increases in capital stock were also filed. Collecting in Mexico.

E. H. Owen, clerk of the United States District Court, has received a telegram from his son, Virgil Owen, announcing his arrival at San Blas, Mex. In company with Chester Lamb of this city and F. L. Osborne of Pasadena, he went to Mexico on an exploring expedition some time ago. The party will collect specimens and make a scientific study of the bird and reptile life on the islands of the Gulf of California.

Preparing to Entertain. San Joaquin Valley towns are making preparations to entertain the members of the Chamber of Commerce excursion through the valley. The special train leaves here the night of the 12th inst. Its equipment will be similar to that used on the recent Yuma "Jaid Hand" trip. The dining cars will serve home produced chicken. President Booth will head the party of Los Angeles merchants. It is planned to have a series of light receptions at the towns along the line. Reservations for berths are being rapidly made.

Los Angeles Business College. The annual social and dancing party of the students and graduates of the Los Angeles Business College will be held at Kramer's Hall on the evening of Friday next. On this account, and as a limited number of tickets will be issued, graduates are asked to call at the college office early. The details will be in charge of the Los Angeles Business College Club, of which the following are the officers: Wm. McNamara, President; Miss Clara Weisenbath, Vice President; and Wright, Secretary-Treasurer; Miss Mamie Ryan, Chairman Social Committee.

There were 231 pieces of oriental rugs shipped to this city, consigned to A. H. Matosian, by the Oriental Rug Co. of Constantinople, London and New York with a draft attached for $685.25. PUBLIC SERVICE OFFICIAL DOGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
The Mayor has announced that Chief of Police Broadhead and Lieut. Dixon are to be made captains when the new Chief is appointed.
In the divorce case of Mattie Myers against A. D. Myers, the Goldfield millwright, the plaintiff and defendant agreed to execute a mortgage on her undivided one-half interest in the magnificent Long Beach home for $5000, to pay for maintenance.
The new probation law was applied for the first time in Southern California by Judge Wilbur in the case of Harry Knight, who pleaded guilty to violating his parole.
The will of the late John J. Charnock was admitted to probate. The estimated value of the estate is $200,000. No mention of Gertrude Driggs was made in the instrument.

AT THE CITY HALL.
NO CHIEF, BUT TWO CAPTAINS.

BROADHEAD AND DIXON ARE TO HAVE THAT RANK.

Mayor and Police Commission Are Still Busily Hunting a Head for the Force With Sealed Lips—Meeting Probably to Be Held Today May Settle the Choice.

The police situation is clearing. The Mayor announced yesterday that Chief Broadhead, when he is relieved by his recall successor, whoever he may be, will become a captain, just as he was before Mayor Harper made him chief.

The Mayor also announced that Lieut. Dixon will be promoted to a captain to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Capt. Auble.

The announcement as to Broadhead sets at rest the rumors that he was to be dismissed entirely from the department. This, of course, could not be done without charges, as Broadhead retains his eligibility as a captain by holding a leave of absence, and thus has the protection of the civil service.

It is well understood by Mr. Broadhead that the Mayor, unless charges are brought in the regular way, and sustained, he will be restored to his rank as captain. He also told Lieut. Dixon that if there is a vacancy and he is eligible he will be made a captain.

The Mayor spoke very highly of Capt. Bradish, who is now the only member of the police force holding that rank. There are three places as captain and the changes indicated by the Mayor will fill them all.

It will do more too, in these days when the recent politicians are lazing about the Mayor with empty spoons. It will make a series of vacancies in the force and permit some of the "reformers" to get into the police force to ask promotion.

The Mayor said yesterday that he has no chief picked yet and that he did not expect to have for several days. He says his list of eligibles is so large that he is taking time to investigate them all. He and his Police Commission had a meeting Thursday night and discussed things. No one knew of the meeting until yesterday, when the Mayor alluded to it. It is likely another meeting will be held today, and the reorganization of the police department discussed further.

Constable J. H. De la Monte, who has been on the Mayor's list of eligibles, called at the executive chamber yesterday afternoon. The Mayor said he was personally looking over all available men. He refused to give any indication as to who was likely to be appointed. The name of C. H. Treat has been added to the list of those urged.

The Mayor has one doctor to add to his Health Board, and as Dr. John R. Haynes visited the executive chamber and offered personal immolation to His Honor, it is thought he may go on the board. It is also said that Dr. R. S. Salisbury, who was a member for twelve consecutive years, is being considered by the Mayor. But the Mayor is mum. He wouldn't even wink yesterday.

NEW LAWS PROPOSED.

One of the charter amendments that passed in February is now the basis of work by Emmett H. Wilson, Deputy City Attorney, in preparing four ordinances that are intended to be long steps toward the city clean. It is not beautiful. This amendment was No. 25 and empowered the Council to pass ordinances imposing new duties on householders and property owners and also providing for penalties for their violation.

One ordinance which Wilson is preparing in anticipation of the wish of the Council, is designed to require all property to make connections with sewer, water and gas mains before a street is improved. Failure to observe the notification of the Board of Public Works to the city department will be authorized to do the work and the cost will be charged as a lien on the property. This is to prevent the cutting of improved streets for such connections and thus hastening their destruction.

Another ordinance will give the Board of Public Works power to notify owners of private vacant lots, or habited premises, to remove rubbish, debris, dirt, or other unsightly or noxious material. It is an ordinance designed to require cleanliness and when the notice of the board is not obeyed the city will do the work and charge the cost as a lien on the property.

The same is true as to cleaning dirt of sidewalks, cutting grass or weeds or other natural impairments and another ordinance gives the Board of Public Works power over this with similar penalties.

The last ordinance gives the Board of Public Works authority to require the planting of ornamental shade trees in streets, the care and custody of them and also their removal when necessary. It is intended that the ordinance shall be of great assistance in beautifying the streets by uniform for-estation but the ordinance made no mention of the City Forester with any additional jurisdiction.

Mr. Wilson expects to have the ordinances ready for the Council meeting Tuesday.

Pensions Granted.

Three pensions were made to the Firemen's Pension Fund yesterday by the Police Commission, acting as trustees. The applications have been pending for some time.

Mrs. Mary E. Buckingham was granted a pension of $366 monthly because of the death of her husband, T. H. Buckingham, an engineer. Mrs. Buckingham has two small children.

Capt. W. J. Gardner, who has served twenty years in the city department, is given seven years as a volunteer, and who is incapacitated by hernia, was put on half pay, $57.50 monthly.

ET TU, MURDER?

City Auditor Mueshet added his fact to the library investigation bias yesterday when he announced that he would investigate many of the bills against the library for which demands have been drawn. But this is all the Auditor does every third day, he says, so that great revelations are not expected unless they show some grave reason why the library fund appears to be overdrawn. The current year to March 1, about $12,000. This overdraw is due to obligations incurred in excess of the monthly appropriation of the library fund, the Auditor says.

MILLIONAIRE IS SUCCESSFUL IN DODGING INQUIRY.

Wife Applies for Allowance Pending Divorce Proceedings and Attorney for Rich Miner Has to Make Offer, Which is Accepted—Bach Home Costs Large Sum.

The extent of the fortune of A. D. Myers, the millionaire who made his pile in the Goldfield district, was on the eve of disclosure yesterday, in the court of Judge James, when Attorney D. K. Trask, representing Myers, made the point that the revelation was unnecessary under the complaint, and the view of the golden stream was denied.

The action arose in the divorce petition filed by Mattie Myers and came up on a motion of the plaintiff for an allowance for her support pending the disposition of the divorce proceeding.

Dist. Atty. Fredericks represented Mrs. Myers, and was about to deliver into the rich ore surrounding the Myers claim, when the court stopped that line of questioning. There were some facts brought out during the examination of Myers that gave an insight into some of the features of the palatial home owned by them on the beach between Long Beach and Alamitos Bay, that caused some discussion among the common people who were court witnesses to the proceedings.

Mr. Myers testified that the house and grounds cost him $100,000, in round numbers, although the original contract price of the edifice alone was but $60,000. There were a number of extras, volunteered the witness.

He said that the home contained nineteen rooms, but that only four had been finished and that the contract he had signed for the furniture called for an expenditure of $30,000. All of this was delivered, he testified, however, and there was only about $2000 in the residence at this time. He also testified that the furniture bill, and there was still due $18,000. There is a mortgage of $25,000 on the property.

It was at this point that Attorney Fredericks began to delve into the holdings of Myers by asking about the Nevada Gold Storage Company and Commission Company. Myers acknowledged that he owned all of the stock.

The former Judge Trask objected to this line of examination. He said that the home on the beach was the joint property of Myers and his wife, which alone meant that Mrs. Myers had ample money to support herself during the pendency of the divorce action. She would not consent by any means, said the attorney. He then made the offer, as the representative of A. D. Myers, to set aside $5000 on her undivided one-half of the property in question, on condition that she execute a mortgage running one year.

"It is unnecessary to go into an examination of the defendant's properties," said Judge James, "and if she is worth, we will see that she has sufficient money to conduct her case and pay her expenses during the pendency of the action," said Attorney Trask. "She is a rich woman in her own right," he added.

It was agreed that the mortgage, be executed by Mrs. Myers within three days, and the case was continued for one week.

HIS LAND DEAL.

DESERT PROPERTY INVOLVED.
N. H. Pearl brought an action in the Superior Court yesterday against Claude A. and Jennie Haas, charging false representations in regard to a land speculation, involving 100 acres of land in what is known as the Imperial Desert, near Indio.

The plaintiff figures that if the representations were true the land was worth $4000; that he can never again enter government land, and he is damaged in that particular. He and it cost him $20 to find out that the property was of no account. He therefore asks for a judgment for $3000.

MYSTERIOUS MODIST.

IDENTITY IS QUESTIONED.
There was an interesting gathering of living fashion plates in Justice Stephens' court yesterday, while a gown comedy was played, but just as things began to reach the third stage, one of the attorneys in the case had to quit, and the matter went over until May 12.

The plaintiff is Lulu Kepke of No. 1005 South Grand avenue, and the defendant is Mrs. de Vere Drake, modiste of No. 740 South Broadway.

On October 15, according to Miss Kepke, she took a package of material from the Drake establishment, to have a fashionable costume made. Mrs. Drake told her she could make a fetching gown of material. In December 22 last she settled the bill. In her complaint she asks $100 damages for the material, and $500 for her attorney's fees.

In her testimony Miss Kepke said she was much embarrassed by a sorry fit of the costume, and that she went to the Drake shop six times to have alterations made by the dressmaker. She said that she was in technical terms until Justice Stephens turned pale.

Miss Inez Drake, said to be the daughter of the defendant, conducted the case for her mother, but did not get far along in the cross-examination before the court adjourned. The claim of the defense was that Miss Kepke called her twice about the dress, that she had never made any demand for the money, and that she only got angry about the garment when she saw that it had not made up as prettily as she had supposed. Attorney H. H. Roser, who represented the plaintiff, hereby made James Drumm, trustee in court, but the offer was declined.

During the cross-examination some of the evidence showed that perhaps Mrs. de Vere Drake and Miss Drake are one and the same person, although the girl was appearing as her mother was too ill to be present in court.

"To whom did you give your order for the dress?" asked the young woman of Miss Kepke.

"To you," was the reply.

"Do you know Mrs. Drake?" asked the questioner.

"Yes; you are Mrs. Drake," And everybody wondered if the modiste and the cross questioner are the same.

NEW TRAIL GRANTED.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY ASKS IT.

A rather unusual proceeding took place in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday in an appeal case from the court of Justice Austin. S. E. Thorne had been found guilty by a jury of obtaining money under false pretenses in selling jewelry that he pretended was good, but proved to be a fake. Thorne's attorney asked for a new trial on the ground that the presiding justice had erred in giving his charge to the jury, and for the reason that a biased juror had been seated on the wrong man had been convicted of the crime.

Deputy District Attorney Saunders conducted the case. Thorne's attorney, and Judge Wilbur reversed the finding of the lower court, and ordered a new trial. The case was set by Judge Davis for May 12.

Arthur W. Larver of Ocean Park, who pleaded guilty to robbing his case continued until Monday. The court intimated that the testimony of a colored girl was not altogether clear on some points, and she will be further questioned.

PURE FOOD CASES.

EVERYBODY PLEADS GUILTY.

A uniform fine of $25 in each case was assessed by Justice Ling in the cases brought for a violation of the pure-food laws, yesterday. The offenders were C. A. Davis and F. T. Richardson of Alhambra, who had misbranded California Home Brand of Mustard.

W. T. Barry of Azusa, mislabeled Prepared Mustard, French Style, and pleaded guilty to the charge. J. Steinart of Rivera had on the market what he called Challenge Flamingo Mustard, and he also pleaded guilty to the charge.

McKay & Monkman, druggists of this city, paid $25 on the charge of dealing in mislabeled goods, in Justice Saunders' court.

George Pearson, a druggist of Colton, pleaded not guilty to selling "Buckeye" brand of tooth powder. His trial will take place the 20th inst. He furnished bail in $50.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

MANY ARE DEMENTED.

The lunacy commission yesterday ordered Col. John Addison Booty to the State Hospital at Patton. He is a former member of the legislature, and was once a member of the Los Angeles county board of supervisors.

For several years he has lived in Long Beach, and his wife now resides at No. 306 Elm avenue, in that city. Asked where he was, Booty seemed a little confused, and said he was in the city of Long Beach, and placed it in his own name.

The old man was afflicted with asthma, and could not live so near the sea, so he left the place and returned to his old neighborhood, but the wife refused to accompany him, he said, and he was in the former action, some of the testimony was uncorroborated, and the case was instituted by Richardson. It is claimed that he is now penniless, while his wife has a fine home by the beach.

WANTS DAMAGES.

WANTS DAMAGES. Judge Bordwell was hearing the case of George H. Carr against W. D. Newer, yesterday, an action in damages for $1500, for an injury. The defendant ran down the plaintiff with an automobile, tearing the muscles of the left knee from the bone. The accident occurred October 1, 1902.

SUES FOR FLOWERS. Justice Sumnerfield partly heard the case of Margaret Taylor against the Auditorium Company, for $125.00, alleged to be due for flowers furnished for forty-three dinners used in the recent production of the "Babes in the Woods," at that playhouse. Mrs. Taylor testified that she had used 4500 flowers in the work of decorating the dress and they were worth 2 cents each. Payment of the bill had been refused, the defendant offering 75 cents a hundred for the flowers. The case was continued until the 19th inst.

CONDEMNATION SUIT. The Los Angeles-Pacific Company has brought an action against Carl and Ellen Schultz, and others, for the condemnation of the right of way across the Magdalena Sepulveda tract in Hollywood.

A certificate for the increase of the capital stock of the Wolfkill Ranch Oil Company, from $200,000 to $250,000, was filed. A certificate for the creation of a certificate of original bonded stock of the Musical Salon, and the Crib-Brook Light and Water Company.

WILLS PROBATED.

CHARNOCK DOCUMENT OFFERED.

The will of the late John J. Charnock of The Palms was admitted to probate yesterday by Judge Rives. C. R. Smeed, a nephew of the deceased, offered a document, claiming to be a copy of the will, and valued at $125,000. There was nothing in the instrument indicating that Charnock intended giving Mrs. Gertrude Driggs anything, as she had claimed. The property consisted of $125,000 in personal and $3000 real property.

In the hearing of the probate pro-ceedings Judge Rives asked closely to the mental condition of the testator, as he asked Smeed: "Was Mr. Charnock accurate in his business dealings?" was the rejoinder.

"Did his actions ever lead you to suspect that his mind was affected in any way as to the nature of the court?" asked Smeed.

The document was short, and was executed January 30, 1900. It runs as follows:

"I hereby will that my property be divided according to law, and appoint C. R. Smeed administrator. And I appoint C. H. Smead guardian of my brother, Edward Fleming Charnock, hereby make James Drumm, trustee and beneficiary for and of Julia M. Ruth my sister."

In the appointment of the guardian and trusteeship, it is claimed that it attempts to create a trust without the necessary legal requirements for a trust.

All this will have to be threshed out later, however, but it will no way affect the legality of the instrument. The will of Gen. G. Wiley Wells of Santa Monica was admitted to probate. It leaves an estate estimated at $100,000, to his wife, Lena M. Wells, who is a devoted life insurance agent.

To this nephew, Bradner W. Lee, the deceased leaves his law library, said to be one of the finest and most extensive in Southern California. The nephew also gets all of the property, books and papers in his law office. Gen. Wells was prominent in political affairs in the South during the days following reconstruction, and represented one of the military districts in Congress for one term. He was also for a time United States Minister to China, during the Grant administration.

The will of William C. Buchanan of Los Angeles, disposing of $150,000 worth of property, was filed in the office of the County Clerk yesterday. The schedule includes $150,000 personality and $20,000 realty, all to be divided among some of the property of the deceased is located at Belleville, Ill., where Buchanan owned a large estate. The executors named in the will are Cyrus Thompson and George A. Harvey, both of Belleville.

SHIELD FAMILIES.

WOULD RATHER GO TO PRISON.

Frank Griffin, a diminutive specimen of humanity, was in company with Frank Dupuy, having pleaded guilty to burglary, were up for sentence in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday.

Griffin was asked if that was his right name, and he answered that it was. When inquiry was made as to his parents, the little fellow looked up and said: "You may send me to prison for fifteen years if you so desire, but I will never tell you the name of my mother."

Similar questions were asked of Dupuy, and he, too, refused to give the name of his sister, who, it appears, is the only relative he has left in the world. "I will go to prison," he faltered, but the court will never know the name of my sister from me."

Both were asked if they desired more time to think the matter over. But Griffin responded: "Not a minute. I have been in jail a long time, judge, and have thought it over, but I will confess to it. I am ready for my punishment," replied Griffin.

"I shall think more about these cases," said the court. With a chuckle, Griffin dropped into his seat and covered his face with his hands.

ASTHMA REAL CASE.

HUSBAND GIVEN DIVORCE.

Judge Conroy yesterday dissolved the marriage of Richard Richardson and Lulu Richardson. It was his second attempt of Richardson to secure his freedom. Several months ago the case was tried by Judge Conroy and a decree dissolved. It was allowed this time on the ground of desertion.

The case revealed a strange condition of affairs. Richardson, until a few years ago, was a prosperous rancher in the foothills of the city, but his wife wanted to move down to Redondo. So the place was sold and the money used to buy a house in Redondo. The wife drew out all of the funds, procured a divorce, and placed it in her own name.

The old man was afflicted with asthma, and could not live so near the sea, so he left the place and returned to his old neighborhood, but the wife refused to accompany him, he said, and he was in the former action, some of the testimony was uncorroborated, and the case was instituted by Richardson. It is claimed that he is now penniless, while his wife has a fine home by the beach.

"SWEATED" BY POLICE.

Seven Men Under Arrest Said to Have Confessed to Burglaries—Supervisor a Victim.

Complaints against the alleged potato peddling thieves, J. A. Redmond, A. Dellimore, William Jetter, W. E. Saunders, Irving and Clarence Swanson and L. Harband, will be filed in Police Court today.

Yesterday they were "sweated" by detectives and confessed, it is said, the commission of six burglaries. Among other crimes, they are believed responsible for the theft of articles of value from the home of Supervisor Fridham of Pasadena.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.
RAPAHETTO HILLS LAND LEASED.

NEARLY THREE HUNDRED ACRES TAKEN BY LOCAL MEN.

Sixth royalty to be paid for thirty years—Strike would greatly increase value of adjoining Garvey, Newmark and Hellman Properties. Prices soar at Beverly.

T. R. Gabel, John A. Merrill, W. C. Bashford and William J. McDonald have leased 298 acres adjoining the southeast section of the Standard's tract in the Rapahetto hills and will drill within sixty days. They will pay one-sixth royalty for thirty years. One Standard rig is just across their line.

The lease is from the Monterey Park and Land Company, which retains a large block for itself. The territory to the east is owned chiefly by Richard Garvey and Newmark & Edwards. To the west is the Hellman ranch of several thousand acres, the value of which would be increased enormously by a strike.

Independents Prepared. Ever since the present contract went into effect the independent agencies have been leying a tax upon every barrel of crude that has been produced by any of their members. All last year it was half a cent; now it is more. This means the agencies are prepared, as never before, to make a fight for desirable conditions. If they have to face a shutdown, wholly or in part, or if they must store oil, or hunt for a new market, they are ready.

The feeling of oil men is that the present price is likely to be sustained in the new contract, but few look for better figures. It is not impossible that some time may lapse between the expiration of the existing contract and the ratification of a new one. Sales of daily runs at satisfactory figures may tide over the interval.

Burr Brothers Condemned.
B. T. Dyer and H. H. Welsh, vice-president and treasurer of the Coalinga agency, have published over their signatures, in a New York financial journal, severe denunciations of Burr brothers and the Coalinga Agency Oil Company, on section 6, at Coalinga. Here are some of the points brought out:

The Aladdin lease is twenty acres on one-fourth royalty, the usual amount being one-eighth. Oil men figure such an interest as equal to twice the royalty. Thus a fourth royalty is equal to ownership of half the land. On this basis, the Aladdin has the equivalent of ten acres owned. The Lucile has forty acres, with two wells completed. The Aladdin has not started work. It is capitalized at $1,000,000, and is selling stock at 25 cents a share, a value of $250,000 for the property, or $12,500 per acre. If figures on the whole twenty, or $25,000, when the royalty is allowed for. It is commonly figured that 20,000 barrels is about the output of an acre of first-class oil land. Supposing the present price to be maintained and that the Aladdin is able to get it for all its output, the value will only total $18,000, or $700 short of what it is capitalized for. This is without allowing one cent for drilling and each well will cost many thousands of dollars. Now, the Burrs are advertising a proposed advance of stock to 30 cents.

At present market price of stock, the Lucile's property, forty acres owned in fee, is valued at $250,000, with two fine producing wells.

West of the City.
The success of prospecting around the Country Club's property west of Beverly and just north of the Associated's Wolfkill lease has sent the price of that land soaring. Three thousand dollars an acre is what is said to have been asked of would-be purchasers, who offered $1500.

The Commercial Petroleum (Union) just west of this, is down about 2000 feet in its first well. The management that sold the Union its present control says that an upper sand of heavy oil was struck at close to 1700 feet, but that the drill was sent right through it, so that it is impossible to say how much it might be good for. The location is farther north than any oil has yet been found. The second well is nearer the proven well.

TO RESCUE BALLOON FROM SNOWY PEAKS.

THE rescue of Dick Ferris's balloon "American," which has been lying in the mountain fastnesses back of Switzer's Camp, for three weeks, where Capt. A. E. Mueller and a party of Pasadena men were lost to the world for several days, is to be undertaken by the Aero Club of California.

Capt. A. E. Mueller and Paul J. Braud, a member of the club, went into the mountains yesterday to reconnoiter, and at 7 o'clock this morning a party of club members, under the direction of L. E. Graves, will leave Pasadena to join Mueller and Braud.

The balloon is on Strawberry Peak, which is about a half mile from Colby's Camp, an isolated clearing six miles from Switzer's Camp. On account of the heavy snows that have blocked the trails, and the fact that Ferris had difficulty in obtaining her, the club could not agree as to whose place it was to rescue the balloon, no attempt has been made to get it, and the Aero Club intends to secure the big bag and rescue it as a captive balloon at the aeronautic exhibition at Fiesta Stadium. Several pack mules and considerable apparatus will be taken by the party that will leave Pasadena this morning. The balloon and basket weigh about 600 pounds, and the bag will be cut into three pieces in order that it may be handled. The basket will be pulled out on runners. The place where the balloon dropped is not easily accessible and a path may have to be cleared through the undergrowth. Braud telephoned from Switzer's Camp at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. The men were to go on to Colby's, and Mueller was to remain there and prepare his plans this morning while Braud was to return to Switzer's Camp and telephone instructions to the second party. At a late hour last night no word had been received from the latter, and it is believed he, too, remained at Colby's and will telephone this morning.

The party that will leave this morning, after receiving instructions, includes L. E. Graves, J. C. Perry, E. B. Anderson, George Chipman and A. Paulson. Several other men are holding themselves in reserve in case their services are needed at a moment's notice.

Hawaii—Why Japan Needs It.

By E. P. Irwin.

THE Federal government no longer looks upon Hawaii as simply a big sugar plantation, it only from the strategic importance of the islands.

This statement, the truth of which is obvious when one considers what is going on in and for the territory, was made recently at a little meeting of the sugar planters and other financial interests of the islands at Honolulu, and may be taken as the admission of the planters that they are no longer supreme in the island, that the day may come when it will be necessary to beat the plowmen and pruning hook into the ground, that the day may come when the cannon's mouth may find itself some day the victim of misadventure in short, that there is a reason for making of the island a Cebu, the Gibraltar of the Pacific.

For that is practically what the United States government is doing—

Of the two groups, Hawaii is the most important to Japan as well as to the United States. Whichever country holds possession of the islands can control the traffic of the Pacific. With Hawaii in the hands of Japan the entire Pacific Coast of the United States is in danger of attack, while nothing could save the Philippines from falling into the hands of the enemy. This last would be a minor calamity, as the Philippines are not essential to the safety of the country. But Hawaii is essential.

Without Hawaii Japan is incapable of carrying on successful war against America. Distances are too great in the Pacific, and the successful nation must have a midway base of supplies, a place where her ships can be refitted and repaired, where they can coal and take on provisions, and whence she can launch her attacks against the enemy. Without Hawaii a Japanese fleet could not operate in the Pacific at any great distance from home. Neither could an American squadron successfully strike at the forces of Here one who wishes can live without work. The soil is immensely productive, and, except where exhausted by the heavy drain of long-continued cane growing, will produce almost anything that is planted, and that with comparatively little labor. The land is a country of velvet breezes, blue skies, gentle rains; a country where intense heat is as unknown as severe cold. It is never either very hot or even moderately cold.

The Japanese are eminently industrious. That is why they have taken from the Hawaiians their fields and their fisheries, why the Hawaiian boys from the son of Nippon the taro which he should grow himself, the fish which he himself should catch. Hawaii has prospered in spite of the laziness of the native; with the industry of the Japanese to stir deeper the soil of her fertility, she should become one of the richest portions of the world.

Will Japan try to take Hawaii? Ask the diplomat at Tokio and Washington. Ask the Legislature of California, the sugar planters of Hawaii, the Japanese residents of the Islands. Then, perhaps you'll know. I don't. But Uncle Sam is building impregnable forts on Oahu, installing great guns, creating at Pearl Harbor the greatest naval station in the world. Of course, war may be impossible. But—

Cocoanuts and bananas—a typical Hawaiian scene

Fortifying Honolulu and Pearl Harbor with a view to making them strong enough to withstand any attack, there is but one enemy that the United States has to fear in the Pacific. It is the Japanese. The Japanese are not only a powerful nation, but they are also a nation that has no designs upon any of the territory belonging to this country. They are not only a powerful nation, but they are also a nation that has no designs upon any of the territory belonging to this country.

It is hardly necessary to point out that in the event of hostilities at any time breaking out between Japan and the United States the outlying and exposed portions of our country would be the first attacked and would have to bear the brunt of the conflict. It is probably because there is no danger or possibility of war—according to the diplomats—that the government of the United States has suddenly awakened to the necessity of protecting these exposed portions of our country.

Japan has but one reason for seeking trouble with the United States. It is because we have something that she wants. The only question is, does she want it enough to try to take it away from us. That is a question which it is wisest to leave to time and the diplomats to settle. It is enough to try to find out what Japan wants and why she wants it.

The total area of Japan, including Formosa, is 167,655 square miles. Within this area are crowded together 72,225,000 inhabitants. In other words, in a country much smaller in extent than the United States, the Japanese are considerably more than half as many people as there are in the entire United States inclusive of Hawaii and the Philippines.

And Japan is an old country. It was old long before the first settlers came to America. The maximum productive capacity of the soil was reached and passed long ago. We have millions of square miles of land there that is in all Japan—and much of it virtually unused.

LOOK AT KOREA!
Japan is much what England would be without her colonies. If the "Oriental England" is to go ahead she must have room to expand; she must have new land from which to draw her sustenance. The only question is, where to get it.

The Japanese government has already shown its realization of the situation confronting the nation by grabbing Korea and turning the Hermit Kingdom into what is already virtually a Japanese province. That helps some. But Korea is not big enough and does not offer the opportunities or advantages that the empire of Nippon needs.

Apparently there are only two other directions in which Japan can expand profitably. Manchuria, if she can get it and hold it undisputed, will give her an immense territory in which to expand. But it is still a question what the other powers are going to say and do when the government of Nippon makes a move to take it. Manchuria is a rich and fertile land, and it is not extremely probable that she could hold it without a struggle in which she would be pitted against several nations as strong or stronger than herself. In addition to this, Manchuria though rich in natural resources, is undeveloped and is cold and inhospitable.

Failing of being able to expend all her surplus energies in the direction of Manchuria, Japan can but turn to the eastward.

In the event of war she might possibly get a foothold on the Pacific Coast, but this would in any case be but temporary—unless perhaps an awakened China were to come to her aid, and this is not probable. But as regards Hawaii and the Philippines the situation is different. Honolulu is a declared neutral. All Japan would have to do would be to step over and take both groups of islands, with practically no opposition, and it would take a long time for the stars and stripes to be raised over them again.

Japan in their own waters without Hawaii as a half-way point from which to operate. But Hawaii would be valuable to Japan from another standpoint. Although comparatively limited in area, the islands are capable of supporting a population many times as great as now people them. The group comprises 1,644 square miles and the total population is only about 160,000—the census of 1900 placed the figure at 154,000, or about 22 persons per square mile as against Japan's 221. If Hawaii were populated as densely as Japan the territory would have 2,173,312 people.

ADAPTED.
The soil is immensely fertile and capable of producing almost every imaginable kind of crop. The climate is the most perfect in the world. The group as a whole is peculiarly adapted to the needs of Japan.

Already Japan has a good foothold in Hawaii, for nearly half the total population of the islands is Japanese. It is estimated that there are in Hawaii about 72,000 subjects of the Mikado. But virtually all the plantation labor; they are to be found engaged in every line of business.

Most of the carpenters, machinists, painters, sugar boiler engineers, are Japanese. They have driven the white skilled labor out of the country, for the Japanese will work for a wage upon which a white man would starve.

Most of the stores, outside of the big business houses of Honolulu, have Japanese names on their signboards. The fishing industry is entirely in their hands. The Kanakas have with a struggle yielded up their taro and banana patches to the more industrious little brown men.

And the children of the sons of Nippon fill the public schools. In the schools of Honolulu they far outnumber all other races combined. In the schools of the plantation districts virtually all the pupils have eyes averted and wear kimonos and straw sandals.

The annual report of the superintendent of public instruction for the year 1918 shows that 64 per cent. of the increase in attendance of the schools of the Territory is Japanese.

The Japanese thrive in Hawaii above all other races, live on a little land and save much, even out of the slender plantation wages. Most of them, when they first come to the islands, go to work as laborers on the plantations, but experience has shown that they do not remain as such over the years, and rarely as long as that. Within that length of time they have either made money enough to enable them to return to Japan and live in relative luxury or else they have obtained work of a much higher class or have become land holders or small merchants.

NATIVES JEALOUS.
But although, as compared with the native Hawaiians, the Japanese do well in Hawaii, conditions are not entirely satisfactory. The natives are jealous because the more industrious and capable orientals prosper, and every obstacle possible is thrown in the way of the Japanese by the Hawaiian Legislature. Special taxes directed at them are imposed. They are not allowed to acquire real property. They are hampered in every possible way. And still they prosper.

But Hawaii is not home to them so long as a foreign flag flies over their heads. They can feel for the islands none of that intense patriotism that is their most prominent characteristic. They are aliens, and are not allowed to forget it.

In addition to this, they pay taxes, not to the government, but to the government of the United States. They help to pay the running expenses of a government for which they have no affection, and which they are looked upon as nuisances and the country would be glad to get rid of them.

All this would be changed if Hawaii belonged to Japan. And much as the Japanese government wishes that the Hawaiian Islands were under its control, the Japanese resident in Hawaii wish it still more.

Hawaii is a lazy man's paradise.

MARVEL OF ENGINEERING.

Completion of Railroad Tunnel Through the Bitter Root Mountains of Solid Rock.

(From the Seattle Times.) Representing the most difficult, the most hazardous and the most costly railroad construction ever undertaken in the line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railroad through the rugged mountains of the Coeur d'Alene mining district. The masterpiece of all the difficult engineering feats represented in the extending of the Milwaukee's road across the continent is the tunneling of the Bitter Root Mountains, on the State line between Montana and Idaho, and about twenty-eight miles from Wallace.

For two years hundreds of men have been at work on the construction of this tunnel, and its approaches, and when the work was completed, which took place last month, all world's records for tunnel construction work, as regards time consumed, accidents involved, etc., were broken. The tunnel is 10,160 feet in length, and pierces mountains that are solid masses of stone.

Despite this fact, the work often progressed at the rate of 900 and 700 feet per month. The workmen were toiling in the heart of the mountain, only a few feet from each other, working in both directions for days, until they broke through the wall that separated the two ends of the tunnel, and there was a difference of only one one-hundredth of a foot between the elevations or floor level of the two crews of surveyors, and but three one-hundredths of a foot on alignment.

This is said by engineers to be the record, and the report has been sent to eastern scientists, who with the hope that comparisons with other great tunnel work may be made.

The bridge across Clear Creek was opened recently. It is also a monument to hazardous railroad building, spanning a cañon at the mouth of the tunnel, and being 230 feet high and 750 feet long. Throughout the Coeur d'Alene the Milwaukee line is a succession of cuts, bridges, and tunnels.

The construction of the line through the mountains of ten tunnels are plainly visible to the eye, and the sight of the construction train scudding along and burrowing in and out of the rugged piles of stone is, indeed, picturesque.

Small army of men have been killed and maimed in the construction of the Milwaukee line in the Coeur d'Alene, and many millions of dollars have been expended. The town of Taft, having a population of 2000 people, has sprung up at the west portal of the big tunnel, and it presents a reproduction of the rough construction camp and mining town, with faro, roulette, and variety theaters in full swing. Recently destroyed by fire, the place is being rapidly rebuilt.

The first 35 miles of the Seattle extension of the Milwaukee from the Missouri River is devoid of any curve greater than 2 per cent. This is considered by the railroad authorities to be absolutely phenomenal.

COFFIN'S GEOGRAPHY CLASS MEETS AT WHITTIER.

Teacher Eighty-three Years Old Attends Fifty-fourth Wedding Anniversary of Two of His Pupils and Several Former Classmates Also Are Present at Reunion.

WHITTIER, Aug. 8.—Sixty years ago, in the little town of Thornton, Ind., young Isaac Newton Coffin taught a geography class. Among his pupils were Jeremiah Cox and his little sweetheart, Estina Fraser, both Quakers. A few years later the pretty Estina and Jeremiah were married and came West. Now, although more than a half century has passed, ten of the pupils of the little Quaker school are living here, and this evening the 54th anniversary of the wedding of Jeremiah and Estina Cox, they gathered together for a reunion. The event was planned by Mrs. Alva Starbuck, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cox, and took place at her home. A feature of the united wedding reception and school reunion was an old-fashioned dinner, among the dishes served being "corn pone," hominy and "flour."

Gathered with the pupils of the old school was the teacher, now an aged man of eighty-three. The oldest guest was eighty-four, the youngest sixty-six, and their aggregate age was 962 years.

SEWER HELD UP.
Absolute refusal to allow the projected sewer pipe-line passage over the Myers ranch has caused a serious complication in the matter of settling the site for the sewer. The Myers ranch refuses to throw the whole matter into the air once more, and the Trustees have referred it back to the Citizens' Committee for further advice.

BUNGALOW SUNDAY-SCHOOL.
A $3000 bungalow, to afford room for their growing Sunday-school, will be erected at once by the Friends' Church. The bungalow will have a frontage on East Philadelphia street, just east of the church. It will have an auditorium for the elementary department, and twenty classrooms. Sufficient funds for the building have been raised, and work will begin as soon as possible.

TEACHERS NAMED.
Announcement of the following appointments of teachers for the public schools has been made: J. B. Weed, principal at Bayview-street school, with Miss Lorraine Hillman and Miss Grace Woodin assistants; Misses Anna Logan, Beanie McCoid, Lillian Vennum, Leona Gibson and Roberta Scott, instructors. At the Penn-street school the personnel is as follows: Miss Marie Newby, principal; Misses Mary McGough, Susan Wengert, Miss Millan, Harriet Welch, Frances Seagmiller, Charlotte McCormick and Grace A. Raymer.

The Whittier Association of Sons of Veterans has just been organized, with the following officers: F. A. Davis, commander; H. J. Gillingham, vice-commander; M. A. Fletcher, junior vice-commander; L. R. Cummings, secretary; J. G. Wengert, treasurer; T. H. Buckmaster, A. W. Swain and J. W. Davis, trustees.

PETITIONS ARE READY.
The Whittier Association of Sons of Veterans is working for the establishment of a high school district. The petitions for the establishment of a high school are ready for submission to the Ocean Park school trustees and the County School Superintendent. They contain the names of 141 electors in the Ocean Park and Playa Vista districts, and are said to represent about three-fourths of the property owners. The movement has the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce, and has for its object the creation of a Union High School district separate from the suggested consolidation with the Santa Monica district.

WASHING THE SEASON.
Real estate rental agencies report that the summer season is fully one month farther advanced than it has been at this time in previous years. This estimate is based on the very small number of houses bearing "For Rent" signs. All but a small per cent. of the furnished houses are already under contract, and there is an even larger number of long-term leases. This indicates a long season and a lively market.

H. C. Hanna was the principal speaker at the Chamber of Commerce meeting this evening. He discussed the Des Moines commission for the suggested consolidation with the Santa Monica district.

WILL MEET BY THE SEA.
California District Epworth League Convention to Be Held at Santa Monica.

SANTA MONICA, April 8.—Epworth League and members of the Methodist Episcopal congregation are making active preparations for the establishment of the California District Epworth League Convention, which is to be held here on May 22 and 23. The district includes all of Southern California.

STONE STICKS.
By tomorrow evening the last of the new concrete piers for the new municipal pier will be completed, and it will go well with the contractor Stutzer expects to complete all the petrified trees in place. The sinking of these stone sticks is being accomplished with ease while the seas are calm. According to plans the pier is to be opened to the public by July 4, and the ceremony will be given consideration in arrangements for the celebration of the city's anniversary.

C. Robinson has been granted a license for the construction of a $1000 garage on Twenty-first street, near L. Lawrence has commenced work on a $1450 bungalow on South Broadway street.

CONTRACTOR LOSES.
The Washington School building is practically completed, and will be ready for occupancy just as soon as the remaining walls can be built and the interior finishing installed. This is the work of the contractor, who has been paid over which the school board has been paid. Contractor Hurwitz had so much work that he was unable to complete the building in time for the opening of the school. It was claimed that the contractor was let at a price that was too high, and that he had not been paid for the work he had done. The school board has now decided to pay him for the work he has done, and the building will be ready for occupancy.

John S. Hollenbeck, of the new second-story hotel, has now completed the hotel and is ready for occupancy. The hotel is a four-story building, and will have 100 rooms. It is located on the corner of Broadway and Spring streets, and will be one of the best hotels in the city.

There are many other interesting stories in the city, and we will continue to report on them as they develop.

High school trustees and the County Superintendent. They contain the names of 145 electors in the Ocean

Monica district.

MEETING THE SEASON.
Real estate rental agencies report that the summer season is fully one month farther advanced than it has been at this time in previous years.
The estimate is based on the very large number of houses bearing "for rent" signs. All but a small per cent.
of the furnished houses are already under contract, and there is an encouraging prospect of long-time leases.
This indicates a long season and a lively summer.

WILL MEET BY THE SEA.
District Epworth League
to Be Held at Santa Monica.
SANTA MONICA, April 9.—Epworth League and the members of the Episcopal congregation are engaged in active preparations for the enlarged Epworth League Convention, which is to be held here on May 22 and 23.
The district includes all of Southern California.

STONE STICKS.
The tomorrow evening the last of the work for the new municipal pier is completed, and if all goes well
the contractor expects to soon have the petrified trees in place.
The placing of these stone sticks is being accomplished with ease while the others are calm. According to presents this reinforced concrete pier is ready for opening to the public July 4, and that circumstance is being considered in arrangements for the celebration of the city's birthday.

CONTRACTOR LOSES.
Washington School building is nearly completed, and will be ready for occupancy just as soon as the contractor's work is finished.
The building is being built on a lot at such a low price that the owner stood in a position to lose the lot. It was claimed that the contractor was not to be paid for the work. The building is of the frame building
type, and is being built on a lot of the city will be more than they have ever been.

own land. Some, indeed, have even acquired large tracts.
Archbishop Jordan paid a glowing tribute to the visitor in a letter to his friends in this city, stating that the bishop's labors had not been devoted entirely to his own countrymen, but distributed impartially among the Latin population of the central part of the State.
"America is most assuredly the land of promise," said Bishop Silva yesterday. "The growth of Catholic church here is remarkable, and there is a great difference in the spirit of the worshippers, from that displayed in portions of Europe. Here the people are not only devout, but they are well educated as well, and alive to the issues of the day."
"The clergy in this country, too, mingle with their people, something not usual in European lands, where the customs governing the intercourse between the people and their pastors are widely different. It has made the American clergy more popular and the people, instead of fearing, really love their priests, which answers largely for the religious progress to be seen in all sections of the country."
Fully six feet tall, Bishop de Silva is of striking appearance, and partly because of his full flowing beard, an ornament unusual in the ranks of the Catholic clergy in this country, but customary in the Old World.
His sojourn in this State has endeared it to him. "The orange and chard and groves of olive trees," he said, "the vineyards and the flowered fields, all remind me of home. Portugal, where climatic conditions are very similar and the vegetation almost the same as it is here. The only difference lies in the energy of the inhabitants. Los Angeles is almost a miracle city and my visit here is to be one of delight, I am sure."

In addition to being the missionary bishop of his people in the United States, Bishop de Silva is titular bishop of Trajanopolis, East Asia. He is well versed in the affairs of European courts, was the uncle of the ill-fated King Carlos of Portugal and is nearly related to the present monarch.
Although reticent in discussing political affairs of his native land, the prelate said that, judging from advice received by him, the country had again settled down to a peaceful regime.

Occidental Affairs.
President Baer of Occidental College is to start East today to attend a meeting of the executive commission of the Presbyterian church in New York next week. Dr. Baer expects to return to this city the latter part of this month, and after a short vacation at the end of the school year will pass the remainder of the summer in Southern California. Instead of going to his summer home at Marshfield, Mass.

Hotel Managers Combine.
Hollenbeck Official Head of Organization for Mutual Protection Against Swindlers.
John S. Mitchell, manager of the Hollenbeck, has been chosen president of the new organization of hotel managers of Southern California. This is the second time the hotel managers of Los Angeles and Southern California have "come together." About ten years ago there was an organization, but it lasted only a short time. The Hotel and Restaurant Keepers' Association of Los Angeles is not a representative hotel managers' association, but it is expected to limit its membership to the heads of the representative hotels of the southern part of the State.
Mr. Mitchell stated yesterday that the hotel business has become so extensive in Southern California that it is necessary for the managers to unite for mutual improvement and protection.

CATTLE STARVE.RACE TO CIVILIZATION, SAYS
WILLIAM MORGAN.

City Man Who Has Just Returned from Desert Regions of Bernardino County Assesses Conditions As Despicable. misery Will Be Improved.

of the Times, No. 11, Raymond Avenue, Pasadena, April 9.—"The condition of the cattle in the desert regions of Bernardino county is a disgraceful situation," said William Morgan, a resident and prominent mining man of this city, who has recently returned from a mining trip from that region.

Human societies are not capable of coping with such cruelty, the government should act through Federal in a matter of this kind. It is deplorable that in any county of flowered corn, cattle by the thousands are left to starve to death, and that I understand it, owned by a prominent and wealthy, in an area of Los Angeles.

Some eighty head of cattle being in across Death Canyon, which is between White Water and San Jacinto, stretching for ten miles, and they were starved to death, and were so hungry they tried to eat the cactus, and their bones filled with the spines. Those cattle were driven by Mr. Myers, who is a poor man, who was doing his best to get the cattle out from Victor you come to Rapid Springs, then to Texas.

It is said that section of country is literally barren of feed, and the cattle are being allowed to die there. The cattle are being driven to the mountains, where they are being starved to death.

AWAY BY RAILROAD.

Salt Lake's Electric Dredger Is Past Spot and Fast Approaching the Basculo Bridge—Lake at Seaside Park Is Being Filled in—Municipal Wharves.

LONG BEACH, April 9.—The Salt Lake Railroad finished moving the last traces of the temporary "shoo-fly" structure at the mouth of the inner harbor today, and the electric dredger is past the spot and fast approaching the basculo bridge. The dredgings from the ocean entrance are being utilized in filling up a lake which was one of the features of Seaside Park when it was first planned.

Bids will be opened tomorrow for the completion of the new Presbyterian church at the corner of Sixth street and Locust avenue. The work yet to be done will cost in the neighborhood of $60,000.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors this morning it was announced that the full report of the Municipal Wharves Commission relative to the acquisition by the city of 1800 feet of water frontage on the inland harbor and the building of municipal wharves and docks, was ready. The estimated cost will be $250,000, to be paid for by a bond issue.

WILL REMOVE EYEBROW.
The Board of Public Works this morning took official action which will remove an old eyebrow of the waterfront. The Fisher annex, which for three years has obstructed the view of the ocean from Pine avenue, it also raised the insurance rates on the wharf 10 per cent. Because of violation of the lease it was decided to remove the annex. The building is being sold for $15,000. The investment in the building and furnishings is placed at $15,000. Manager "Jim" Kelly, former trainer of the little Englishman, Owen Moran, and the people of the city of greater or less brilliancy, did not know whether any insurance was carried by the owner, Chris Donovan. It is generally reported that the structure was not insured.

Water in useful amount was not obtainable, and the flames swept away the flimsy walls without hindrance. The closing of the race track together with the rumored change of policy contemplated by the heirs of the late E. J. Baldwin, render it unlikely that the resort will be rebuilt. It always catered to a rough-house patronage, and was originally the gaming park which until the late E. J. Baldwin died this morning at his home on West Second street. BUYS RING, PASSES CHECK.
Transaction at Monrovia Results in Arrest—City Entitled to Free Mail Delivery.

MONROVIA, April 9.—W. H. Julian was up before Justice Holloway this morning on a charge of passing forged checks, preferred by Marshal Miller. Julian purchased a ring at a jewelry store in Los Angeles, and offered a check for $250. He offered a check for $250 and received the balance of the amount in change. Mr. Rader became suspicious of the transaction and made inquiry of the American National Bank. The check was signed E. G. Medler and was drawn on that institution. The bank reported that such person had an account with it. Marshal Miller immediately began his search for Julian and arrested him at 5 o'clock last night at the hotel resort in Arcadia. The hearing of the case is set for the 16th inst.

COMMITTEES NAMED TO CARRY ON ACTIVE CAMPAIGN.TEMPORARY STRUCTURE TAKEN

Salt Lake's Electric Dredger Is Past Spot and Fast Approaching the Basculo Bridge—Lake at Seaside Park Is Being Filled in—Municipal Wharves.

LONG BEACH, April 9.—The Salt Lake Railroad finished moving the last traces of the temporary "shoo-fly" structure at the mouth of the inner harbor today, and the electric dredger is past the spot and fast approaching the basculo bridge. The dredgings from the ocean entrance are being utilized in filling up a lake which was one of the features of Seaside Park when it was first planned.

WILL OPEN BIDS.
Bids will be opened tomorrow for the completion of the new Presbyterian church at the corner of Sixth street and Locust avenue. The work yet to be done will cost in the neighborhood of $60,000.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors this morning it was announced that the full report of the Municipal Wharves Commission relative to the acquisition by the city of 1800 feet of water frontage on the inland harbor and the building of municipal wharves and docks, was ready. The estimated cost will be $250,000, to be paid for by a bond issue.

WILL REMOVE EYEBROW.
The Board of Public Works this morning took official action which will remove an old eyebrow of the waterfront. The Fisher annex, which for three years has obstructed the view of the ocean from Pine avenue, it also raised the insurance rates on the wharf 10 per cent. Because of violation of the lease it was decided to remove the annex. The building is being sold for $15,000. The investment in the building and furnishings is placed at $15,000. Manager "Jim" Kelly, former trainer of the little Englishman, Owen Moran, and the people of the city of greater or less brilliancy, did not know whether any insurance was carried by the owner, Chris Donovan. It is generally reported that the structure was not insured.

Water in useful amount was not obtainable, and the flames swept away the flimsy walls without hindrance. The closing of the race track together with the rumored change of policy contemplated by the heirs of the late E. J. Baldwin, render it unlikely that the resort will be rebuilt. It always catered to a rough-house patronage, and was originally the gaming park which until the late E. J. Baldwin died this morning at his home on West Second street. He was the father of Arthur Newton, editor of the "Daily News."

GIRL LURED BY MAN'S PROMISES.

BEING FORMER LEITER AGENT FOR DAMAGES.

Miss Marion Mattes Tells Jury of Being Taken to Call on Friend, Given Beer Which Made Her Feel Queer, and Attacked by Man Who Had Proposed.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, April 9.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) With modest hesitancy, Miss Marion Mattes, 22 years old, No. 1009 Michigan avenue, today told a jury in Judge Wells's court why she hoped to recover from Hugh Crabbe, former Leiter agent, $25,000 for alleged breach of promise to marry.

Miss Mattes gave a detailed account of occurrences at various meetings and strolls through Washington Park, which followed until one night in September, when, she says, he proposed, she told of alleged incidents on October 1, as follows:

"He told me he had a friend at No. 1009 Michigan avenue, and I agreed to accompany him there. When a woman opened the door she greeted him warmly, and, after we were seated in the parlor, the woman went out and returned with three drinks of whiskey. I told them I never drank whiskey and they laughed, and then she asked me if I would not drink some beer. Well, Mr. Crabbe looked at me so funny that I said 'yes' and was given a glass of beer.

"I felt queer after I drank it, and the woman left the room and closed the door. As soon as the woman closed the door, Mr. Crabbe suddenly seized me in his arms, kissed me and acted strangely.

"I object," shouted Attorney Stein, "what did he do?"

Judge Wells told Miss Mattes to describe exactly what took place.

"I thought," said the witness, "and then he struck me, pulled my hair and knocked me down. My head struck some furniture. When I became conscious most of my clothing had been removed."

Miss Anna Murray, the former housekeeper of Crabbe, also sued Crabbe for $25,000 for alleged breach of promise. Crabbe's divorced wife, Catherine Lamont, was accidentally shot in a North Side saloon when two men fought over her about eighteen months ago.

UNION DOGS IN MANGER.

Famous Mexican Band Will Not Come to United States Because of Harrow Jealousies.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CITY OF MEXICO, April 9.—Opposition on the part of the musicians' unions in the United States has compelled the abandonment of the proposed tour of the famous Banda Mexico of this city. Director Rochas made efforts to book the band in New York City and elsewhere, but found the strength of the unions arrayed against him. The trouble, it is said, dates back to the occasion of the Elks' national convention at Buffalo, N. Y., when the Guadalajara band, accompanied the El Paso (Tex.) Elks' delegation, entered the contest of hands and carried off the first prize.

FIGHTING EXTRADITION.

W. A. Muir Goes Before Governor of Colorado for Third Time to Resist Warrant.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

DENVER, April 9.—W. A. Muir, the San Francisco stock broker, yesterday appeared before Gov. Shoup for the third time to fight extradition asked by the California authorities.

While operating on the floor of the local stock exchange a deputy from the sheriff's office here accompanied him to San Francisco, where he was arrested on the charge of embezzlement preferred by Henry Greer of San Francisco, who alleges that Muir embezzled stocks valued at $50,000.

The previous two charges on which extradition had been attempted were made by a man named Ault.

WHITLAW MAIL HEAVY.

Many Letters Are Received by Willis and His Father, Some Demanding Money.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SHARON (Pa.), April 9.—Mrs. James H. Boyle, one of the alleged abductors of Willis Whitlaw, will be brought from the Mercer county jail to this city for a hearing early next week.

This will permit the return of Mrs. Boyle to Mercer in time for the meeting of the grand jury there on April 19.

Since little Willis Whitlaw was kidnapped on March 18, more than 400 pieces of mail have been received, addressed to the boy and his father.

All the letters express their pleasure that Willis was returned safe and sound to his parents.

Letters to Mr. Whitlaw request donations of money for various purposes.

Quite a number of the letters are of a threatening nature, demanding money from $100 to $10,000, stating that in the event the money is refused, Mr. Whitlaw and his family will be blown up by dynamite.

JOIN THE CHAMBER!

That there is as much need for the work of the Chamber of Commerce as ever before, in its years of labor for the upbuilding of Los Angeles and Southern California, and that the membership of the organization has not increased proportionately to the growth of population, is to be improved on the public by the Membership Committee, which consists of Carl E. McStay, chairman; Marshall Stinson, G. G. Johnson, Arthur W. Kinney, Frank H. True, Alden W. Skinner, H. P. Usher, H. J. Brainerd and Maynard McPeck. By authority of the board of directors, the committee has organized a membership department, which will relieve Secretary Wiggins and his staff of much detail work. The department will be composed solely of the view of keeping up and adding to the membership.

OIL IN STORAGE DECREASES.

By a vote of the district in 1930, a bond issue of $500,000 was authorized.

Later a contract was made between the district and the Semi-Tropic Land of the bonds. The water company agreed to sell the district a continuous flow of water amounting to 1000 inches.

It partly performed the contract, and at different times conveyed to the district portions of the 1000 inches of water. Portions of the bonds were also completed and turned over to the district. In return the water company received the $500,000 worth of bonds of an irrigation district.

The coupons held by the plaintiff were attached to bonds thus received by the water company.

The Rialto Irrigation District claimed that the contract provided an unsigned the agreement with the water company for exchanging the bonds for
